

HEART OF GLASS

A GROUP EXHIBITION HOSTED BY CONCRETE AND GLASS
IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE CONTEMPORARY ART SOCIETY

CURATED BY FLORA FAIRBAIRN AND PAUL HITCHMAN

Heart of Glass in the basement of Shoreditch Town Hall is the central exhibition of the art strand of CONCRETE & GLASS. Organised in association with the Contemporary Art Society, the 33 emerging and established artists exhibiting in the show were selected through open submission out of over 150 proposals. A panel of judges consisting of: Alison Goldfrapp, Marc Quinn, Gavin Turk, Rachel Campbell-Johnston (Times Art critic), Paul Hobson (Director of Contemporary Art Society), Irene Bradbury (Associate Director, White Cube) and Philippa Adams (Saatchi Gallery) will choose their best 3 works in the show, the winning artist being awarded a space and promotion for a solo show at Concrete and Glass 2009. Access to CONCRETE & GLASS is to wrist-band holders until midnight on the 2nd and 3rd October, as well as to invited guests.

Launching on the 2nd and 3rd of October 2008, Concrete and Glass is a unique event showcasing some of the best talent in music and contemporary art. It takes the creative hub of Shoreditch and the east end as its inspiration. (Art projects will continue on, running through Frieze weekend until 19th October).

Tapping into the unique infrastructure of music and art spaces in the east end, the art strand will feature over 30 projects in disused warehouses, outdoor spaces and empty shops in collaboration with curators, artists and galleries.
